

JSConf UY

13th & 14th march
Montevideo, Uruguay

The exclusive conference for JavaScript (JS) development for web and server-side alike. We are associated with JSConf, a successful series of conferences worldwide on the matter.

This event gathers together programmers, enthusiasts with state of the art libraries, products, services and allows to find talented professionals and create business relationships.

We provide a unique experience for all 380+ attendees in a two-day single track conference, with workshops and social events.

What could the event do for your company?

Whether your goal is recruiting, brand exposure, product promotion, or something else, we have a sponsorship opportunity for you. We encourage you to send your best talents to participate, share their experiences. In addition to the conference, we include a series of small events as great networking opportunities that would make the difference with other events in Uruguay. All talks will be recorded and made available for a greater audience.
